ROOSEVELT AS PEACEMAKER

USES INFLUENCE TO PREVENT RUPTURE

President Engaged in Supreme Effort to Induce Envoys to Compromise Their Differences and Reach Agreement.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 19.—President Roosevelt has stepped into the breach and is making a last desperate effort to save the peace conference from shipwreck. That, in a sentence, is believed to be the situation this morning. Just what the president is doing has not transpired, but it is regarded as certain he has appealed both to Tokio and St. Petersburg to induce the warring countries to show a spirit of concession and not allow the conference to go on the rocks next Tuesday. Ministers Griescom and Meyer may have been instructed to make direct appeals to the emperors of the two countries. If the co-operation of France and England, the allies of the respective belligerents, is secured something may be accomplished. The main obstacle to the success of the peace negotiations is certain to be the question of indemnity. Russia will not pay "a coopek of tribute," is the language of Witte. That is believed to be Russia's last word on that question. Thecession of Sakhalin may be arranged. But unless Japan relinquishes her claim for the cost of war, all hope is gone. It is at Tokio, consequently, that the issue will probably be decided. France, it is certain, will support the president's effort. If England will now bring pressure to bear, as it is definitely stated she is now prepared to do, the situation may be saved.

As an indication of intervention by Roosevelt, Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, departed early to day for Oyster Bay.

CALL TO OYSTER BAY.
Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 19.—On direct invitation of President Roosevelt, the Russian peace envoys will arrive here late to day or to morrow to confer with the president with a view to bringing about an agreement between the Russian and Japanese envoys that will prevent final rupture between the plenipotentiaries. The invitation was transmitted to Witte last night after the president had had a conference with Baron Kaneko, who came here late yesterday afternoon as the representative of the Japanese government.

Russian Ambassador Rosen, who is second of the Russian envoys, was with the president an hour this afternoon. He came by invitation of the president, not merely to discuss with him the situation, but to have presented to him by the president a proposition, which, it is hoped, may solve the differences which have arisen between the plenipotentiaries. After his conference with the president, Rosen left immediately for his summer home at Magnolia, Mass. where he and Witte, the principal envoy, expect to spend Sunday. Neither the president nor Rosen would discuss, even in the most general terms, the details or result of their conference. The ambassador will present the president's proposition to Witte to night and the likelihood is that it will be transmitted to Emperor Nicholas. On the result of its consideration will depend the fate of the peace conference. It is not improbable that before the envoys meet Tuesday it may be known with some degree of definiteness whether there is to be peace or continuance of the war.

Until the present time President Roosevelt has refrained from any action, even by indirection, that might be construed as interference by the plenipotentiaries. He announced at the beginning of the negotiations that, neither by word nor by act, would he participate in the proceedings of the conference; although he made it perfectly clear to the envoys that he would be ready at any time to assist them in a proper way in their great work. In anticipation, however, of the failure of the envoys to agree upon certain articles which they had agreed to consider and in the expectation that he might be appealed to by one side or the other before the conclusion of the conference, the president has been in communication with the great neutral powers. His purpose was to enlist their support of the final effort to secure honorable peace. With King Edward he communicated because Great Britain is a practical ally of Japan, and with President Loubet, because France is the nearest friend of Russia. Germany, too, was appealed to, and Emperor William is exerting his influence for peace.

Through Mr. Griescom, the American minister at Tokio, the president also has been working, but it cannot be ascertained whether his efforts have been directed toward the reduction of Japan's demands or not. It is surmised, however, that he has urged the Japanese government to so modify its terms as to render it easier for Russia to accede to them.

Baron Kaneko, the confidential representative of the Japanese government in this country, has been keeping in close touch with President Roosevelt since the peace negotiations were in their inception. For the fourth time in as many weeks and for the second time within a week he was in conference with the president last evening. Neither he nor the president would disclose the nature of their interview, but it is significant that the baron had scarcely started for New York before the president's interest in the negotiations at Portsmouth became active. He sent a long and important communication to Witte and Rosen. Secretary Polace's reply to the message was communicated to the president by telephone from the executive office in Oyster Bay village.

Then ensued long distance conferences between the president and the Russian envoys. The president invited Witte to send a trusted envoy, preferably Rosen, to Sagamore Hill in order that he might present to him for the consideration of the Russian mission a proposition of the highest importance. The invitation was accepted and the details soon arranged, the result being Rosen's conference with the president this afternoon.

At the conclusion of the conference, while Rosen declined to talk of his visit, his demeanor was changed absolutely. His face was wreathed in smiles and his manner was quite genial. The interview, evidently, had been satisfactory to him. Rosen departed this evening, presumably for Magnolia, Mass.

President Roosevelt said this evening that he could not discuss in any way his conference with Rosen. The information conveyed by his remarks was that publicity at this moment might imperil if not wreck entirely the negotiations pending. The president would not indicate, either, his opinion of the result of the negotiations.

It is quite evident from the trend of events to day, which made Oyster Bay for an hour the center of peace proceedings, that the Russian envoys now are in possession of information that will assist them materially in concluding an agreement with the Japanese. It would be futile to speculate as to nature of this information as to the character of the proposition submitted to Rosen, but it can be said that if the conference, after communicating with their governments, are able to proceed with their labors Tuesday without a rupture, it will be due to the final efforts made to day by President Roosevelt.

JAPANESE GIVE UP HOPE.
Tokio, Aug. 19.—It is confidently believed here the peace conference at Portsmouth will result in a rupture, but the news is calmly received.

The weight of popular belief seems to anticipate failure of peace negotiations. The press and others are urging the Manchurian and Vladivostok campaigns be vigorously, also seizure of Russia's possessions on the Pacific coast. Rains have ceased and fighting in Manchuria will soon be possible.

WORKING FOR PEACE.
Berlin, Aug. 19.—The conviction continues to exist at the foreign office that the negotiations at Portsmouth will result in peace. The whole influence of Emperor William and the German government is being exerted as tactfully as possible toward peace.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 19.—Contempt proceedings, charging violation of the order of District Judge Phillips, issued in March, 1902, restraining defendants from giving rebates in violation of the interstate commerce law, were filed here to day in the United States district court against the Alton, Burlington, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island and Santa Fe Railway companies. The companies are charged with giving rebates in violation of a restraining order and the court is asked to cite them for contempt.

CHEATED THE GALLOWES.

PRESIDENT'S PROPOSITION

THE ONLY HOPE FOR PEACEMAKERS

All Envoys Ignorant of Nature of Latest Move of Roosevelt—Japan Must Be Reimbursed in Same Manner.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 19.—All hope here that the peace negotiations may yet be saved from a break on Tuesday is fastened to the proposition which Rosen is bringing from President Roosevelt to Witte. This proposition, it is understood, concerns only Russian position, and, if it shall prove acceptable to Russia, will be presented to Witte as soon as it shall have received the sanction of the emperor. When Witte retired to night he was ignorant of the nature of the proposition.

Late to night Witte was advised by Rosen that he was leaving Oyster Bay and expected to reach here some time to morrow morning. The Japanese plenipotentiaries are yet without official knowledge of Rosen's visit to Oyster Bay. Komura and Takahira do not expect that the proposition will come before the conference as a suggestion from the president, but in case it should be acceptable to Russia they expect to see its effect in a modification of the Russian attitude. The Associated Press is authorized to say that Japan has implicit confidence in the president and although without any practical knowledge of this latest movement, the Japanese plenipotentiaries feel certain the president is acting not only in behalf of peace, but as much in the interest of Japan as Russia; that before Rosen arrived at Oyster Bay the president was in full possession of Japan's views and knew on what points she might under certain conditions yield, and what demands were regarded as essential and unchangeable.

Japan, it can be stated, must somehow be reimbursed for the cost of the war. Unless the emperor shall change his position, which his plenipotentiaries do not for a moment believe is probable, Russia must yield on article nine (war indemnity) or Japan will be forced to continue the war. The Associated Press is further authorized to say that the Japanese plenipotentiaries have not recommended to their government a retraction of the principle for which the war was fought, and for which Komura and Takahira have been striving earnestly throughout the conference.

Up to midnight neither Komura nor Takahira had received from the president an invitation to go to Oyster Bay, but it is regarded as not improbable that the president, after his conference with Rosen, may desire further information regarding Japan's position in this crisis and to obtain this, may request Takahira to come to Oyster Bay for a conference. Should such an invitation be received the minister would leave immediately.

The rumors in circulation here to night that resentment was felt in Japanese circles at the action of the president in sending for Rosen is authoritatively denounced as false. Indeed, Japan welcomes this final effort of the president to serve the cause of peace. Regarding the president's latest move, a Japanese authority said to night: "Japan's confidence in President Roosevelt as a great and good friend has been strengthened rather than shaken, by his final effort on the eve of what is feared may prove the farwell session of the Washington conference. To prevent a rupture Japan has done her utmost for peace; we believe the president appreciates this and if he does, any action he may, in the light of his knowledge, take to serve the cause of peace will find the hearty sympathy and support on the part of Japan. The day that Russia realizes that Japan's 'irreducible minimum' is irreducible, peace will be much nearer."

There is much speculation to night regarding President Roosevelt's proposition, but the secret has been well kept and there is absolutely no authentic information on the subject. So intense is the interest here in the change in the situation to day that a rumor in circulation to night that the president expected to come to Portsmouth, found many believers. It is regarded here, however, in official circles as most improbable.

WITTE'S DAY OFF.
M. Witte returned to the hotel to night at 8:40 enthusiastic over what is called a "day off." He spent the greater part of the day viewing the country between here and Magnolia. Witte refused absolutely to speak about the peace conference, Rosen's journey to Oyster Bay and the probable result which may be derived from it.

AGAINST CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 19.—In the Trans-Mississippi congress to day a resolution urging strict enforcement of regulations against immigration of Chinese was adopted after a spirited debate, in which the California delegation protested that the resolution presumed to instruct President Roosevelt as to his duty and that the whole matter, being of a political and social nature, was barred by the by-laws of the congress.

EMPEROR'S MANIFESTO.

The manifesto will be read in all the churches to morrow.

It is now known that Parker is the correct name of his companion. Parker comes from a respectable family of Kansas City, Mo., and at one time studied for the ministry. The identity of the mysterious woman who is said to have accompanied the accused men to Cleveland the night of the murder, and through whose disclosures over $2,000 worth of the stolen jewels have been recovered, became known to day. Her name is given as Mrs. B. Ellison. She was arrested Wednesday in Kansas City and brought to Detroit yesterday.

RUSSIA WILL NOT YIELD

OPPOSED TO GIVING MON-KEY OR TERRITORY

Emperor Thinks Announcement of New National Assembly Has Done Much to Strengthen Him in That Resolution.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.—As the time approaches for the playing of the last cards at Portsmouth there is manifested here among certain high officials and by the press and public the unmistakable conviction that Russia will not yield on the points of paying indemnity, as such, or of absolutely ceding Sakhalin to the Japanese.

The Associated Press can authoritatively state Emperor Nicholas to day, previous to the announcement of the new national assembly, was firmly resolved that he would not accede to the Japanese demands on either of these points and, furthermore, that the reception by the people of the assembly project has done much to strengthen him in that resolution. It is not felt here that the question of the transfer to Japan of all interned warships and the limitation of Russia's naval force in the Pacific will be crucial points in the final settlement. They are regarded as terms inserted in the demands by the Japanese for the purpose of humiliating Russia before the world and for no very serious purpose of negotiation. They are roundly declared to be unacceptable, but are not vested with the importance of the other two unsettled questions.

To day, as at the beginning of the Portsmouth negotiations, conditions relative to the cession of Sakhalin and indemnity are universally declared to be impossible of acceptance. The emperor has received further addresses from the country begging him to neither cede territory nor pay indemnity and expressing the readiness of the senders to make further sacrifices if necessary. In the emperor's known state of mind these communications certainly have their effect.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER

Eleven Year Old Boy Charged With Killing Young Girl.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 19.—John Goodson, aged 11, is under arrest charged with the murder of Hannah McQuade, aged 7, just outside the west city limits of Detroit last night. The girl was driving toward the McQuade home in company with her two sisters. Goodson and three companions, who had been shooting sparrows, attempted to climb upon the rear of the wagon. The girls ordered them off and whipped up the horse. Goodson, it is charged, became enraged and shot at the girls with a Flobert rifle.

JEALOUS WOMAN

Shoots Employee of Her Husband in a New York Hotel—Husband's Statement

New York, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Beatrice Young, wife of William G. Young, who employs several stenographers in New York hotels, shot and probably fatally wounded Mrs. Catherine Morgan in the parlor of the Hotel Imperial to day, where the latter was employed by Young. Jealousy is believed to be the cause of the shooting. Mrs. Young had separated from her husband and believed that Mrs. Morgan was to blame for it. The affair created almost a panic in the cafes of the hotel, which were quickly emptied of the diners who rushed to the scene of the shooting.

Young said to night that he had employed Mrs. Morgan at the request of his wife, who was a friend of Mrs. Morgan, and that his relations with her had been simply those of employer and employee. Mrs. Young, he said, came east with him a year ago, leaving their child, a boy 2 years old, with Mrs. Young's mother in Winona, Minn. Soon after that Mrs. Young began to act strangely and he became convinced that her mind was affected. Young said he had no doubt that his wife was laboring under some hallucination when she shot Mrs. Morgan, and that knowing his wife was irresponsible for her actions he intended to do everything possible to aid her. At the hospital Mrs. Morgan's condition to night remained about the same and she was in no immediate danger, it was said.

The order decreed: "That each family shall bring a baby to the baptismal font each year, thus evangelizing by birth rate for the church and crusading against race suicide. 'That lovers shall not embrace or kiss each other before marriage. 'That no faithful member of the Christian Catholic church in Zion shall marry without first obtaining the written consent of the apostle, John Alexander Dowie. 'That marriages performed by justices of the peace shall not be recognized by the church as legitimate."

DEATH LIST REMAINS LOW

NO INCREASE IN NUMBER OF NEW CASES

Yellow Fever Authorities Satisfied With Progress Made in Controlling the Disease in New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 19.—Official report up to 6 p. m.:
New cases, fifty-eight.
Total cases to date, 1,310.
Deaths, four.
Total deaths to date, 192.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 19.—Beyond the statement that the daily figures continue to present solid evidence that the modern, scientific plan in progress is controlling the fever, the authorities in charge of the work had little comment to make to day. They find justification for their optimism in the fact that the number of deaths remain low, far below what they had reason to expect a month ago, that there is no increase of consequence in the number of new cases, and that the progress of infection is feeble in the district above Canal street.

Dr. Berry of the marine hospital service has recovered after a siege of about ten days. He was stricken while hard at work in the originally infected district.

Among the cases reported to day was one near Madisonville, a summer resort on the other side of Lake Pontchartrain. A positive case and a suspicious case were reported at Kenner, ten miles from New Orleans.

Answering the question of the board of trade concerning the possibility of infection being carried in merchandise shipped from New Orleans, Surgeon General Wyman said to day: "Merchandise of any kind per se cannot carry infection of yellow fever. It must harbor infected mosquitoes to do so."

DESERVING OF PRAISE

NOVEL CHARITY IDEA PRO-POSED BY POPULAR FIRM

Benefit to Hospitals Through
Generosity of Jacksonville
Cigar Company—Enterprise
Shown in Offer.

Jacksonville is the home of many enterprising industries and among the foremost of these is the Jacksonville Cigar company. This firm, while the youngest cigar manufacturing firm, is by no means the least. It was established two years ago by Messrs. W. G. Wolfe, H. C. Clement and C. J. Wolfe, under the firm name of the Jacksonville Cigar company. The Messrs. Wolfe are the active members of the firm and Mr. Clement is the silent partner.

Starting on a small scale the firm has by modern methods and strict attention to business enjoyed a most prosperous growth. Heretofore their leading cigar has been the "Old Smoker," which has taken its place as one of the leading 7 cents brands of the city and vicinity.

The firm is now preparing to place a new 5 cent cigar on the market which will be known as the Country Club. This cigar will excel any 5 cent brand now on the market and will be the equal of many 10 cent brands.

The title and design for the label for this brand is taken from the local Country club. The label is the finest piece of work that has ever been placed on a cigar box in this city or any other city, and in itself is a perfect specimen of the lithographer's art. At the top of the label is a reproduction of the Country club house made from a photograph. In the lower corner is shown a portion of the local links at the eighth hole. Running diagonally across the label is a ribbon on which the words Country club appear in white letters on a red background. The label has ten distinct colors which are artistically blended and the effect is pleasing to the eye. The trimmings of the box throughout are all special work and in keeping with the label.

The Country Club cigar is the result of the two years' experience this firm has had in studying the wants of the better class of smokers. The firm has spared no expenses in producing an article that will satisfy the most exacting user of cigars. The cigar will be of perfect shape. The filler will be of the best old well cured tobacco, blended so as to secure a rich mellow smoke. The wrapper will be of the highest grade of imported sumatra, which is the best wrapper on earth. The cigars will be hand made.

This enterprising firm has hired E. L. Ledford's show window on the south side of the square and on Monday will inaugurate a novelty in the way of introducing their goods to the trade. The first thousand of their new brand of goods will be placed on display in this window. These cigars will be auctioned off to the highest bidders during the week. Each bid will be for one box of cigars and the twenty highest bidders will each receive one box of cigars. The gross proceeds derived from this auction will be divided equally between Our Savior's and Passavant hospitals. The public will be kept posted through the press during the week of the results of the auction. The sale will close Saturday, Aug. 20, at 1 o'clock, and the names and amounts of the twenty highest bidders will be given in the Courier and Journal. Bids may be left at the Jacksonville Cigar company's factory, 221 1/2 South Main street, or Ledford's book store, or one may telephone bids on Illinois No. 232.

These goods will be on sale by all leading dealers Monday, Aug. 28.

CONSUMPTION THREATENED.

C. Unger, 211 Maple street, Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store."

The opening of the circus season is scheduled for next Tuesday. The Forepaugh-Sells combined shows will give two exhibitions upon that date.

Features galore are announced in preliminary information. The O'Brien family of seven acrobatic equestrians have a distinct novelty in their coaching specialty entitled "Derby Day." The Walkowsky troop of Russian dancers present a sensational whirlwind dance. A group of Japanese gymnasts, in acrobatic feats never before seen outside of the mikado's domain. Captain Webb's two companies of trained seal and sea lions. Sunlin's educated Spanish bulls. Gorman's stable of beautifully managed horses.

The Aurora Zonaves will also be a feature of the show. They have just returned from London, where they have been appearing for the last few months.

Of riders there will be two scores or more. They are said to be the champions of all countries and of all schools of equestrianism.

First class aerial performances possess the most thrilling interest for everybody, and in this branch of acrobatic art, Forepaugh-Sells shows are pre-eminently strong. They present a paralleled number of the greatest and most venturesome and original male and female mid-air trapeze, horizontal bar, floating rings, invisible wire and fun-ambulistic experts in the most startling flights, dives, evolutions, catches and combinations, with a handicap of evening dress costumes.

The menagerie of the combined shows is said to be made up of the largest and rarest collection of wild animals ever exhibited under canvas. The two score elephants embrace the Adam Forepaugh performing elephants and the equally well trained troupes of the Sells shows.

Merriment for the little ones will be furnished by clowns without number, who will be busy throughout the entire performance.

Grounds at Nichols Park Show
Marked Improvement as a
Result of Recent Work—
Plans Include Flower Plots
and Ample Hitching Facilities

Much interest is being manifested in the progress of the work of laying out and grading the walks and drives at Nichols park, and although the work has hardly begun, enough progress has been made for a casual observer to gain some idea of what the system will be when completed. The plans prepared some months ago by a Chicago landscape gardener are being followed out, and will be completed as soon as the means at the disposal of the commission will allow.

The main driveway has already been graded, and is in use. It starts from the northwest corner of the grounds, and approaches the west end of the pavilion with sweeping curves, passing east along the north side of this structure, thence around the east side to the embankment leading to the bridge across the middle of the lake. It then turns northeast and follows the contour of the lake, outside the trees, passing the dam and entering the Vandalia road at the old entrance north of the dam. This much has been graded.

The drive will be continued across the bridge between the north and middle lagoons, and will circle about the first neck, branching to the north-west of the gun club house, one branch passing back to this structure, and connecting with the main drive after skirting the second neck of the middle lagoon, thus completing a circuit about the elevated portion of the ground on the south side of the lake.

The system of walks as planned is much more elaborate. Starting on the west side of the drive at the entrance to the park, the main walk divides, one branch proceeding to the pavilion in a southerly direction, and the other, tending toward the southeast. A walk encircles the pavilion, sending branches to the east to the lake, with a branch to the dam; to the south to the site of the proposed boat landing on the lake, and to the west to the railroad, to the proposed site of the custodian's residence and barns. A walk will also encircle the lake, skirting the banks inside the drive, where it follows the same course. A branch also follows the drive to the Vandalia road, on the north, another touches the gun club house, and another runs from the railroad bridge to connect with the walk running from the west end of the pavilion to the railroad.

The plans also comprise the making of many flower plots, formal and otherwise, and makes ample provision in the way of hitching facilities. A pumping station, water tower and fountains are also among the items for future consideration.

"I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee, of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store.

What Have You Done?

You are going to do great things, you say.
But what have you done?
You are going to win in a splendid way.
As others have won.
You have plans, that when they are put in force.
Will make you sublime.
You have mapped out a glorious upward course.
But why don't you climb?
You are not quite ready to buy, you say.
If you hope to win.
The time to be starting is now—to day.
Don't dally, begin.
No man has ever been ready as yet.
Not even will be.
You may fail, are you reach where your hopes are set.
But try and see.

You are going to buy a piano, you say.
On the installment plan.
Your dreams are all right, but too far away.
Don't be so slow Man.
For the world, when it judges the case for you.

Will not think of what you are going to do.
But of what you have done.

GRAND PICNIC AND BURGOO

UNDER AUSPICES OF ANTI-HORSE THIEF ASSOCIATION

RAILROAD NEWS

Cost of New Alton Limited Train—Items of Interest and Personal Mention.

It may be of interest to learn just how the cost of the new train for the Alton limited is divided. Investigation shows that the engine which pulls the train cost the Alton $18,000 each. The postal cars $7,000 each. The combination baggage and sleeping cars cost $8,000 each. The chair cars cost $12,000 each; the dining cars $14,000 each; and the Pullman chair cars $20,000 each. There are two Pullmans and two chair cars on each train so that the entire value of the seven car train as it leaves and arrives in Chicago is about $110,000. The two trains therefore represent an investment of $220,000, a sum that will stagger the ordinary citizen when he thinks that these two trains are but a portion of the numerous trains operated on the various divisions. The company sends nine trains out of Chicago and as many into Chicago each day. There are ten into St. Louis and ten out each day from Illinois points alone and half as many from the western division. In addition there are numerous plug trains, as they are termed, which do not run into Chicago or St. Louis, but which have their origin in Bloomington, Dwight, Peoria or Springfield and which run but a few miles, from forty to one hundred. The combined value of these trains runs well above a million and illustrates the enormous amount of money it requires to run the modern railway.

The new trains which were built to run between St. Louis and Chicago will be pressed into actual service to day for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. James Leahy have removed to Bloomington, where Mr. Leahy has taken a place in the Alton shops.

Ray Dennis, of the C. P. & St. L. carpenter gang which is at work on the Mitchell hotel, is visiting with his family in Decatur.

The Burlington carpenter gang of Beardstown were in the city Saturday loading some lumber which will be used to repair the depot at Keyesport.

Mr. Wilson, assistant division engineer of the Burlington at Vermont, was in the city Saturday calling on friends.

W. A. Card, trainmaster for the Burlington, was in the city Saturday.

The old gravel pit which has been used by the Burlington at Keyesport for some time, has given out, and four miles of track is being laid to a new one. The laying of the fifty-six miles of track on the Herrin extension is expected to begin on Sept. 15, and the company expects to have gravel out of the new pit by that time. The laborers are now laying track by hand on the Herrin extension near Centralia, but the company will begin in earnest on the 15th with a track laying machine.

ART INSTRUCTION

Courses to Be Offered at Illinois College Under Direction of Miss Wilhelmina Coultas.

The art department of Illinois college will offer this year several courses that should appeal to prospective students and should also interest pupils who have studied heretofore. The department will be under the direction of Miss Wilhelmina Coultas, who has studied for several years at the art institute of Chicago, being a member of "Advanced Life" under J. H. Vanderpool. Miss Coultas has also studied with Frank Duveneck at the Academy of Fine Arts, Cincinnati, and with William M. Chase of the New York School of Art.

The courses of instruction will include "Drawing from Antique, including fragments, head and figure, and work in Still Life, in water color, pastel, oil, pencil, charcoal and pen and ink."

There will also be a Friday afternoon sketch class from the figure in costume.

A Saturday morning class in still life and composition for the teachers of the public schools will also be organized.

Miss Coultas has already received encouragement in the organization of an out-door sketch class that will begin work at the opening of the school year and sketches made out of doors will be carried forward in the studio.

The studio at Academy hall is admirably adapted for the work in art and the school possesses a number of very valuable casts and other supplies essential to competent instruction. The lighting of the studio is exceptional.

The work of instruction will begin with the opening of the college Sept. 21. Miss Coultas will be at the studio after Sept. 20, and any one desiring to consult with her before that time can call at 124 Westminster street.

AT THE GRAND.

The "Girl of the Streets" was presented at the Grand Saturday evening before an audience of small proportions, while the matinee was largely attended. CRUSADE ON

JURY MOOCHER

S. W. Baxter, Formerly of This City, Now Assistant Prosecutor of St. Clair County Has Inaugurated Movement to Drive Out the Professional Jurymen

S. W. Baxter of East St. Louis, assistant prosecuting attorney of St. Clair county, who arrived in the city Saturday for a Sunday visit at the home of his mother, was interviewed by a Journal representative regarding his campaign against the East St. Louis jury moocher, a campaign that has received considerable notice at the hands of the press in both St. Louis and East St. Louis.

In speaking of the campaign, Mr. Baxter said: "The practice of using professional jurymen in justice of the peace cases in East St. Louis has reached such a stage that it has disgraced not only the justices' courts, but the legal profession as well and has served to handicap officials and litigants in the rightful discharge of their duties. I have started on the crusade to rid the city of this pest of jury moochers and have been assured of the loyal support of every reputable attorney and court litigant in the movement. It has come to a pass where honest business men have refused to serve in our justices' courts and I feel sure I will have the moral support of every right thinking citizen of the entire community before the crusade is over."

The state's attorney of St. Clair county resides at Belleville and Mr. Baxter has charge of all the people's cases in East St. Louis.

The St. Louis Post Dispatch in commenting on the movement inaugurated by Attorney Baxter had the following article in Saturday's issue: "Assistant State's Attorney Baxter of East St. Louis believes his crusade against the professional juror is already a success."

"The crowds of loiterers about the justices' courts—men who were waiting for a chance to get on a jury for the small fee or for some other purpose—have disappeared, and constables and deputy sheriffs, when they want jurors, now have to hunt for them."

"Baxter has given the police a list of men whom he charges with being 'professionals,' and has requested that these men be arrested on sight. He promises to prosecute them for vagrancy, and either put them in prison or drive them out of town."

"The prosecutions have resulted, so far, in the conviction and banishment of Edward Timmons, and the imprisonment, awaiting grand jury action, of M. J. Carney. Timmons, on a charge of vagrancy, was fined $100 and given twenty-four hours to leave town; Carney, on a charge of perjury, was sent to the Belleville jail in default of $1,000 bond."

"It is charged that Carney, before Justice McKane, swore he had not sat on a jury in three months when he had really sat on two juries in one day within a month. Both cases were heard before Justice Stanton."

Mr. Baxter is a product of Morgan county and is a graduate of Illinois college and the St. Louis law school. His many friends in this city will be pleased to learn of the success he is achieving in the legal profession.

Sacred concert at Nichols park Sunday afternoon, 3 to 5 o'clock—Jeffries' Band.

SOME FINE CORN.

W. C. Ledford, who resides east of the city, has some large corn on his place. The lower ears on many stalks are so high that a man cannot reach them from the ground. This corn is on prairie land. It is not unusual to find very tall corn on bottom land, but the crop this year has assumed unusual proportions everywhere, and the question of shucking will be a serious one in many localities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Herman will leave for the east Wednesday night to purchase the largest and most elegant stock of millinery, ladies' novelties, holiday goods and furs ever brought to Jacksonville.

CONTRACT LET.

The contract for the building of the pumping station for the Jacksonville water works company has been let to Mortimer Van Houten of this city. The contract price is $11,956. Work upon the contract will begin at once, as the provisions call for its completion by Nov. 30.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Use as a Cover Crop.
Farmers need a half century ago to sow rye among their corn and work it in at the last hoeing, says American Cultivator. Now the custom has been almost abandoned, as few of them care to eat much bread, and if they wish to feed down the land they do so without grain or with some other grain than rye. Yet it would be well for many of them to sow rye not only among the corn, but among many other crops or where other crops have been taken off. It prevents the surface soil from washing and also the fertilizing elements in the soil from leaching down and stores up the fertility in an available form to be taken up by the next crop if the rye is plowed under in the spring. A crop of rye plowed under will supply much humus or vegetable matter to the soil when it decays, and that is needed by many of our light soils in New England. The farmer who tries it will be well repaid for his seed and labor.

Foley's Kidney Cure will cure all diseases arising from disordered kidneys or bladder. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

BIGGEST GOLD BRICK.

Exhibit From Nome, Alaska, at Lewis and Clark Fair.

WEIGHS ABOUT NINETY POUNDS.

It is a Foot Long, Four Inches Deep and Five Wide—Nuggets That Attract Attention—Displays of Other Minerals Which Tell of Nome's Untold Wealth.

The biggest gold brick ever cast, nearly as large as two building bricks placed end to end, which contains $25,000 worth of gold that is purer than the gold in a twenty dollar coin, recently arrived at the Lewis and Clark exposition in Portland, Ore., and is being exhibited by the Nome district of Alaska as evidence that Nome is still a great gold producing region, says W. E. Brindley. The gold brick is a foot long, four inches deep and five inches wide, and it weighs approximately ninety pounds.

The city of Nome, on the Seward peninsula, in the extreme north of Alaska, beyond the string of islands that stand out like the bill of a snipe, contains a population of from 2,500 to 3,000 people in the winter time and ten times as many people in the summer. The town has an enterprising chamber of commerce, which in fifteen days got together the most wonderful mineral exhibit ever displayed by one region.

While the gold brick which Nome is showing has attracted more attention than any other single article in the United States government building at the fair, three nuggets, worth in the aggregate $5,000, stand second in popularity. These are exhibited in a small wire cage, and a man who wears in his belt a revolver of the size common to melodrama and wild west shows stands guard over them. The biggest nugget of the three, which weighs 182 ounces, is worth $3,270. There is a hole in one side of the cage big enough for one to put his hand through it, but not large enough to enable him to take out the nugget. Over the chunk of gold there is a legend which reads, "You can lift the nugget, but don't take it away," and all day long people crowd one another for a chance to hold $3,270 worth of gold for just a fraction of a minute.

The nuggets and the gold bricks constitute Nome's most interesting gold display. They are owned by the Pioneer Mining company and were found in Anvil creek, near Nome. Near the nugget cage is a table on which, under glass, are small boxes of pay dirt. This display is not so spectacular as that in the nugget cage—which, by the way, includes a host of smaller nuggets in addition to the three big ones—but it is remarkably interesting. The pay dirt shows no gold and looks like ordinary gravelly soil. One box of it is labeled: "Pay dirt from Anvil creek. Average value $1.20 per bucket." One at once begins to figure how many buckets an ordinary man could fill in a day, and the figures are startling. Another box contains broken rock and is labeled, "Portion of bedrock from Portland bench claim—$421,000 result of work of seven men for sixty days."

But gold is not the only mineral resource of the country round about Nome. Some 150 miles from Nome, at a place called Cape York, on Buck creek, there is a mountain of tin, where $25,000,000 worth of the metal is in sight. The tin is found in a substance called cassiterite crystals, which contain 72 per cent of metallic tin, and from 40 cents to a dollar's worth of gold to the ton. There is a whole mountain top, ten miles long by two miles wide, of this cassiterite, which is worth $41 a ton at the present price of tin. Last winter 500 tons of the ore were taken out, and the magnitude of the industry is hardly to be conceived. Then, again, at Evans mountain, on Shishmaref inlet, 180 miles northwest of Nome, there is a ledge of cassiterite. The ledge is exposed to a width of 15 feet and runs 1,000 feet up the mountain, reaching an elevation of 400 feet. From this it is presumed that the ore vein is 400 feet deep.

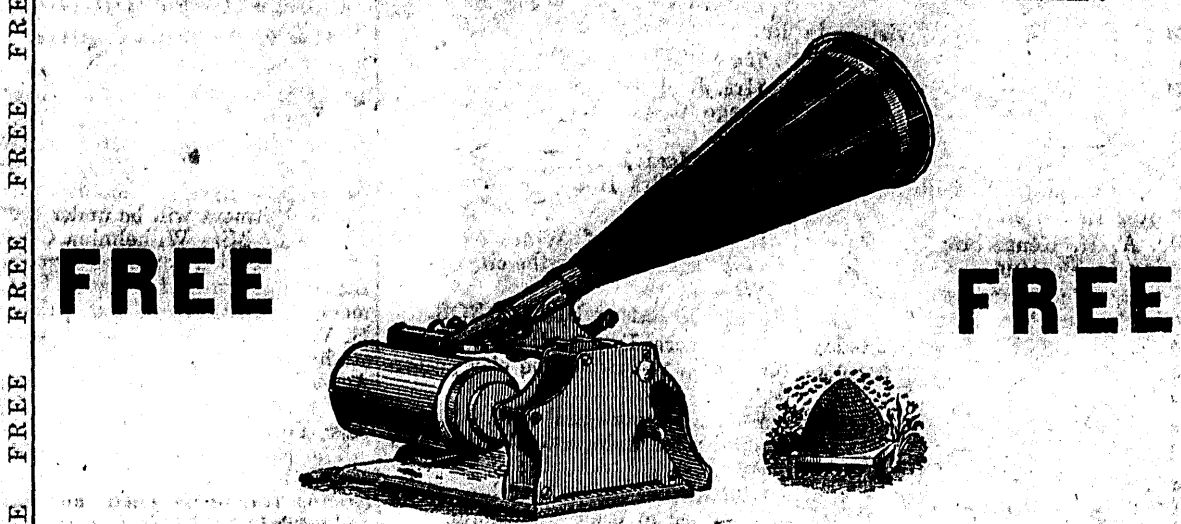

And then there is quicksilver, another new proposition and a very profitable one from all appearances. Quicksilver ore is found on the Kuskoquim river, distant 800 miles southeast of Nome. Some of it runs $400 worth to the ton, but $100 is probably the average. The ore is found on the surface. It is burned in an immense caldron, so that the quicksilver vapors rise and are afterward precipitated or condensed into liquid quicksilver by being immersed in cold water. At the exposition the richness of the ore is demonstrated by a piece from which the quicksilver has been smelted. The rock is honeycombed like a pumice stone.

It costs 20 cents a pound on the average to transport coal from the mines in British Columbia to Nome; hence the importance of the discovery of a coal mine which produces a fairly good grade in the far north. The coal mine is located on Chicago creek, which flows into the Kugruk river, which in turn flows into Kotzebue sound. At the surface three tons of coal were found to be equal in heat producing power to one ton of Wellington coal. Now a shaft has been sunk 300 feet, and two tons of the coal at that depth are worth one of Wellington. By means of this coal, which is essential to winter mining in the far north, $250,000 worth of gold was taken out last winter. The discovery of the coal thus opens up immense possibilities in winter mining. It assures a regular year round population for Nome.

Such are a few of the things exhibited by the enterprising city of Nome.

Building Fences, Cleaning Streets and Carrying Mail at Winsted.

The Rev. Newell M. Callahan, pastor of the Second Congregational church at Winsted, Conn., and member of the Yale corporation, is building a rustic stone wall in front of Pine Bank, his summer residence on the shores of Highland lake, says a Winsted special to the New York World. His artistic work with the trowel is attracting many contractors.

The Rev. George Remington, a Baptist clergyman, formerly of Colebrook, is employed by the town raking stones on the highways. The Rev. P. S. Francis of New Hartford, a Methodist clergyman nearly seventy years old, is telling seven days a week. He carries the mail six days inside week between Collinsville and Torrington and preaches on the seventh.

Sleeve Bands For Girl Swimmers. One mystery that has been baffling spectators at Bailey's beach in Newport has rested in the fact that many girls, who profess they are unable to swim manage to glide through the water in a manner that suggests proficiency in the nautical art, says the New York Press. Apparently they carried no life preservers to keep them from sinking. Now the secret has been revealed. It appears that the surprising skill of the girls is due to a contrivance they carry up their sleeves. The sleeves, which are decidedly puffy, are fitted up with rubber bags, which are blown up before the garment is donned. Thus the wearers are enabled to strike out in supreme confidence that Davy Jones won't drag them down to his locker.

A DOUBLE SWINDLE

(Original.)
Franklin Dole was very much disconcerted. Louise Elkins had inherited an income barely sufficient to keep her and her younger brother Ernest. Ernest had fallen into the hands of Arnold Prigmore, who preyed on society in a gentlemanly way and without breaking the laws. He was winning money from Louise the boy did not possess. To save himself, Dole was drawing on his sister.

It had just come to Dole's knowledge that Prigmore had that very day taken an additional amount from Ernest, or, rather, from Louise Elkins, for her brother had given in payment of a gambling debt her check for $3,500. There could be no doubt that the money had been won dishonestly. Besides, it was equivalent to dishonesty for a man of Prigmore's age and experience to take money won from a foolish boy that belonged to a woman. But there was nothing in this that could be proved as a swindle. Dole also knew that Louise Elkins' income had already been reduced to a minimum by these drafts upon it, and with the present amount paid her revenue would be unequal to her modest requirements. He had heard Ernest tell Prigmore when he gave his sister's check that he must have twenty-four hours to make it good in bank. Dole thought of going to Prigmore and protesting, but decided that it would avail nothing.

The next morning while Prigmore was sitting at the breakfast table a servant announced a lady to see him. Going to the drawing room he found a visitor, veiled, who rose as he entered and in a voice choked with sobs said: "I have come to ask if you have deposited the check given you yesterday by Ernest Elkins."

"I have not," I expect to do so this afternoon before the closing of bank hours."

"Will you let me see it?"
"Certainly," and, taking out his pocketbook, he showed her the check. As soon as she saw it she fell back in her chair in collapse.

"Well," asked Prigmore, "isn't it all right?"
"My fears are realized; it is a forgery."

"How do you know?"
"The signature is supposed to be mine."

"Yours?"
"Yes; I am Louise Elkins."

"Your brother shall suffer for this."

"Spare him, I implore you. Consider his youth."

"I'll land him where he belongs—in state prison."

"Tell me how I can satisfy you. I am but a woman and know nothing of business."

"You can give me your own check that will be good in the bank."

"And you will tear up the forgery?"
"Certainly. I only want my money."

Prigmore showed her to a desk and gave her writing material and a blank check. With a trembling hand she filled it out, and as she handed it to him he said:

"I can't return the forgery till I find that this check is good." Then noticing that the check in his hand was for $4,500 instead of $3,500 he paused a moment, then folded it and gave her the other check. He surmised that in her agitation she had made a mistake, which he proposed to take advantage of.

"How can I repay you for your magnanimity?" she asked.
"By lifting your veil."

"For heaven's sake, don't ask me to do that; I am ashamed at being the sister of a forger. If I should meet you again in society, perhaps I would not wish you to know me."

"But,"
"Are you sure the amount of the check I gave you is right? I scarcely know what I was doing."

"The exact amount. Never mind lifting your veil. I can readily understand your feelings." He gallantly showed her to the door and bowed her out.

"I wouldn't take her for the little fool's sister," he muttered. "She must be a head taller than he. It would have been safer to have had a look at her face, but I was afraid she'd want a look at the check. I'd have risked a thousand for a sight of her. What fools women are!"

MATRIMONIAL

SCHWEDLER-MILGEMEIR.

The wedding of Rev. Richard Schwedler, of Oxnard, Cal., and Miss Eleanor Milgemeir, of Cincinnati, O., took place Wednesday, Aug. 10, at the Ninth Street Baptist church of Cincinnati. It was a quiet church wedding, beautiful in its simplicity, and witnessed by only immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The attendants were George McDonough and Miss Mabel Drach, niece of the bride.

The bride is well and favorably known in this city, where she formerly resided, having made her home in the family of Mr. and Mrs. G. Drach since childhood. She was ever an active worker in the First Baptist church of this city and was prominent in the Young Ladies' Aid society. She is a young lady of winning ways and charming manner and her personal popularity is attested by a wide circle of admiring friends who will join most heartily in wishing her every happiness.

The groom was also at one time a resident of this city, where his sturdy manhood and upright character commended him to the favorable notice of many. He is a Baptist minister by profession and in his chosen calling has met with success. He will take charge of the Baptist church at Oxnard Sept. 3. On their way west Mr. and Mrs. Schwedler will visit for a few days in this city, and are expected here Wednesday of this week. They will be guests at the home of Mr. G. Drach, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mayer, of 403 North Prairie street, and other friends. The best wishes of a host of friends will follow them to their western home. SHUTE-DANIELS.

Harry Shute and Miss Nell M. Daniels, of both of Quincy, were married Saturday morning at Centenary parsonage by Rev. William H. Wilder.

The groom is a member of the state militia, and has been in camp in Springfield the past week. He came to this city Friday night, and was met here by his bride Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Shute left via the C. & A. for Easton, the home of the parents of the groom, where they will spend a short time.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY. Americans are to day acknowledged to be far in advance of all foreign countries in the practice of dentistry. Alveolar dentistry is one of the greatest discoveries of recent years. By this new system all of the old methods of restoring lost dental organs are overcome. Dental colleges have recognized the superiority of the alveolar method and are changing their curriculum. Dentists throughout the world are specializing in this system.

Dr. Hunter having post-graduated in the alveolar system offers his services to the public. Is permanently associated with Dr. Green, over Phelps & Osborne's.

Mr. and Mrs. William Floreth and son departed Saturday evening for Chicago. They will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hull while in that city. Mr. Floreth will spend the week purchasing goods for the well known dry goods house of Blackburn-Floreth Co.

Some Choice East State Street Building Lots on the Market—Terms to Suit Purchaser.

East State street has long been one of the most beautiful of Jacksonville streets. The only drawback has been the lack of street car service and that want is soon to be supplied. There are not many building lots for sale on East State street, but Edward Whitmer has a frontage of over a thousand feet and has determined to offer 800 feet for sale. The lots were recently staked off and are now for the first time placed upon the market. The lots front to the south and are very desirable for building purposes. Anyone who wants to build a home on an old established street, sure to improve even more within a few months time, should see these lots.
